The Biosapiens Network has established a Permanent European School in Bioinformatics (ESB), which is held twice a year in a different country every time. The Permanent European School in Bioinformatics is intensive and has a substantial practical component. Its intent is to give a basic overview of the methods and tools available to the community and will cover five themes:

Protein Families and Functional Annotation | Protein Structure Prediction | Data Integration and Access to Genes and Genomes | Systems Biology | Analysis of Microarray Data

The course is directed towards people with little or no experience in computational techniques and/or in the usage of Bioinformatics.

Speakers

M. Pentony, S. Lise | UCL, London, UK
T. Schwede, L. Bordoli | SIB & Biozentrum, Basel, CH
G. Spudich | EBI, Hinxton UK
A. Di Cara | ENFIN, Merck Serono, Geneva, CH
A. Alexa | Max-Planck-Institut, Saarbrücken, Germany
